

Title: Native American students: curriculum, supports and policies

Date: November 2009

Question: Could you provide curriculum, supports and policies developed specifically for Native American students?

Response:

We conducted a search for research reports, policy briefs and other documents in this area. The sources included federally funded organizations, additional research institutions, several educational research databases, and a general Internet search using Google. We also searched for appropriate organizations that may act as resources on this issue. We have not done an evaluation of these organizations or the resources themselves, but offer this list to you for your information only.

This memorandum is one in a series of quick-turnaround responses to specific questions posed by educators and policymakers in the Western region (Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah), which is served by the Regional Educational Laboratory West (REL West) at WestEd. This memorandum was prepared by REL West under a contract with the U.S. Department of Education's Institute of Education Sciences (IES), Contract ED-06-CO-0014, administered by WestEd. Its content does not necessarily reflect the views or policies of IES or the U.S. Department of Education nor does mention of trade names, commercial products, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. Government.
